Lena looked into her fathers face, he was crying. "u will have a better time there Lena. I already sendt the letter to Dumbeldore. Now do you have evrerything you need?" he asked her. "yes dad, but I dont want to go away from you!" Lena said. The engine of the train had already started. Lena didnt dare go on. "Lena, listen to me! Go on that train, make new friends and be happy! It was what ur mother wanted." Lena nodded and went onto the train. "bye dad!" she called to him as he disapeared through the barrier. She went to find a seat, walking by a compartment she looked in at the people sitting there. They looked back at her, there was a blond boy with a sneering face that pointed to her ears and tail. "thanks alot. Now the whole train will know that i have a tail before long." she mutterd. She went further into the train and found a empty compartment. She put her bags in the luggage rack nd took the covers of the cage of her cat. "oh, Silky! I miss mom!" she said and a tear rolled down her cheek. At the same time the compartment door opend and three people came in. It was two boys and a girl. "hi!" said the boy in the middle. "hi..." Lena awnserd back. "did you know that you have cat ears? And a tail?" asked the red haired boy. "Ron!" the girl with the bushy hair said to the boy who aparrently was called Ron. The first boy sat down in the seat oposite her. "I like your cat." he said jesturing towards the white Sliky now sleeping on Lenas lap. "whats her name?" "its Silky. Whats your name?" Lena asked. "Harry Potter. Thats Hermione Granger, and he is Ron Weasley. Whats your name?" Harry said. "she still hasnt awnserd my question, what makes you think she will awnser yours?" Ron said. "my name is Lena Pevensby. And yes I do know that i have a tail and cat ears. One of my moms experiments, it killed her. She never got used to it." Lena said sadly. "oh... sorry." Ron said. Hermione had been buysy reading a book, when Ron said sorry she looked up. "we had better get our robes on then." Lena drew out some shabby robes. "Lena what on earth are those?" Hermione asked. Lena looked at them. "they are my robes. Well actualy they were moms from when she was at Hogwarts." Lena said. Hermione handed her a new pair of robes. "take these. They are too small for me anyway." she said firmly. Lena put Silky back into her cage and putt he cloth over her. "night sweety." she said to Silky.

thats all for now.

2 - Lena finds out

"who did you get the cat from?" Hermione asked curiously. "dad. He gave Silky to me right after mom died so i wouldnt be lonely." Lena said looking at Hermione. "awww, Pig not again!" Ron said looking up. The others followed his gaze and Lena heard a swoshing noise before she saw what looked like a feathery baseball. "whos Pig?" she asked Harry. "Rons pet owl. I have one too. Do you want too see her?" Lena nodded and Harry took down a cage in wich a beautiful white snowy female owl sat. "shes beautiful!" that moment the boy who had pointed out Lenas ears and tail walked in, followed by two gorillas. "well, Potter. I see you got yourself another freak friend! Well she fits in perfectly with the wirdow group. YOU!" the boy laughed and Lena stood up. "dont you dare tease my friends!" she said firscely and the others in the compartment got round eyes. "i may be short but i do know about right and wrong!" Lena said flexing her fingers that had extremly long nails. "so either you stop beeing so high on your horse and relax or you will have me to awnser to!" the boys face went paler than it already was, "high on my horse am i?" the bo said and snapped is fingers. One of the gorillas was walking towards Lena. She snapped her fingers and the door to Silkys cage opend and Silky went out of it. They stood there facing the large gorilla. "what spicies of gorilla are you exactly?" Lena asked and before the stupid boy even had started to think she yelled: "HELP! HELP ME! THERE IS A GORILLA IN THE COMPARTMENT! ITS GOING TO KILL ME!!" the thin boys face went white. Then he ran out of the door and sprinted up the caridge. Lena fell back onto her seat, the others were still gogeling at her. "what are you looking at? Never seen a 13 year old before?" she asked. "your 13?" Ron asked. "yes. Dad has been teaching me at home. The minestry allowed it only because dad is an aura so he knew all about underage wizardry. He taught me since i was 9 just in case. Then mom died a few weeks ago and i had to come here." Lena said simply as if there were nothing wrong. "why are you looking at me like that?" she asked farlyy anoyed. "dont you know what happens if your dad sends you here rather than teach you himself?" Hermione asked. "no. What does happen?" Lena asked. "hes broke. He has to use the year to try to make money." Harry said. "but if i ask mom nicely you could probably stay with us in the holidays. I hope you dont mind that i have very noisy siblings?" Ron asked. Lenas eyes filled with tears, how could her dad do this to her? How? She took Silky of the floor and hugged her. The only thing she still had to cling on to or else she would probably lose Silky as well. "into your cage now Silky. Be careful! Here have some food." Lena said pulling a pice of meat up from her pocket and feeding it in bits to Silky. There was a clatter from outside and a food cart stooped outside the door. "would you like anything to eat?" the lady who was pushing the cart asked. "no thanks. I have my own food." Lena said miserably. Then she burst out i tears. "im s-s-sorry! H-h-h-here ill have a c-chocolate frog." she said through the sobs and pulled a galeon out of her pocket.

After the food cart had left Lena looked up. Harry and Ron were buysy swapping chocolate frog cards but Hermione was looking at Lena. "what is it Lena? Whats wrong?" Hermione asked. "i-i-i want to be able to s-see d-dad again! Why cant he write to me?" Lena sobbed. "he can write to you Lena. You just cant see him. Thats all." Hermione said drying Lenas tears. Lena looked at her watch. "We will be there in five minutes! I have better to stop crying!" Lena said smiling. "im glad that your here Silky..." she said to her cat and dried the tears on the back of her hand.

3 - Breakfast

As the train was slowing down Lena looked out of the window. "wow..." she said as they walked out of the train onto a platform. Lena looked around at all the people and listened to all the noises. "this is...OW!" she said because some jerk had stepped on her tail. She grabbed her tail and held it till she came to a carriage that was driven by thestrals. "cool." she said as she walked in. She looked up. There was only one other person in there, a girl with dirty blond hair with radish earrings. "hello. My name is Lena." Lena said politely. The girl looked at her, "I'm Luna Lovegood." the girl answered in a dreamy voice. "I like your ears." Luna said. Lena blushed and muttered a thanks. The carriage door swung shut and they started moving. "what house are you in?" Lena asked. "I'm in Ravenclaw. Which are you in?" "I'm hoping to be in Gryffindor. I want to be with the ones that are brave and daring. I just wish I didn't have to go up to Dumbledoor's office at once. Ah well, I'll live." Lena answered. The rest of the trip Lena and Luna were silent. When they came into the castle an ugly man grabbed hold of Lena and dragged her off to a ugly gargoyle (though not as ugly as the man). Lena worried for what was beyond the gargoyle. "you wait here!" the man ordered and Lena didn't dare disobey. A few minutes later Dumbledore appeared and went over to Lena. "so you're Lena? Well it's a pleasure to meet you. Let's step inside." Lena nodded and the headmaster smiled. "sugar quill." he said and the gargoyle sprang to life and jumped out of the way. Lena stepped onto a moving staircase and walked up to a door. "well what are you waiting for? It's a door, open it." Dumbledore said and Lena did as she was told. She gasped. It was the most amazing room she had ever seen. "wow. Just wow." she said and her new headmaster chuckled. "can I get sorted now professor?" she asked eagerly and Dumbledore smiled and pulled a hat off a shelf and handed it to Lena who put it on. Her ears stopped it from falling past her eyes. "Hm...what house to put you in? Difficult indeed, brave enough for Gryffindor, wise enough for Ravenclaw, sly enough for Slytherin, kind enough for Hufflepuff." "please don't make me go to Slytherin! I want to go to Gryffindor! I belong there!" Lena desperately thought to the hat. "belong in Gryffindor? Well if you're sure that you do then it shall be GRIFFINDOOR!" Lena took the hat off and handed it to Dumbledore. "you young lady should get down to the great hall and so should I so we can tuck in some elf made food. You will sit at the table your new friends sit at." Dumbledore told her and she nodded. As she followed him out she spotted a magnificent phoenix. "wow..."

The next day Lena woke up with a head ache. She sat up in bed rubbing her head. "ow." she thought and got out of bed to get dressed. When she felt the floor and managed to look around she nearly screamed. This was not her room! Then she remembered that she was at Hogwarts. She yawned and got dressed. Lena looked over at Silky's cage. "you look hungry Silky. Here." she said giving Silky bits of meat she had put into her pocket the previous night then she opened the cage and Silky went out of it stretching her legs and looking hopefully up at Lena. "no more breakfast today. Maybe I can get something from my breakfast and give it to you in the break." she said to her cat and went out of the room and down the staircase. There was a fire in the fireplace and Lena headed towards it then she remembered that she didn't have any floo powder so she walked towards the portrait of the fat lady and went down to breakfast. Nobody was in the great hall so she went exploring it. Before she knew it she found a galleon she decided to keep it. As she went she found more things that interested her. Including Hermione's ancient runes book. Lena stood up and stretched her back yawning. There were people coming in including the pale boy from the train. Ignoring him Lena sat down at the Gryffindor table and waited for some of her new friends to come down. A split second later Ginny came into the hall. Lena waved to her and Ginny came straight towards her. "mornin!" Lena said happily to Ginny. "mornin!" Ginny answered back, "your up early." "yeah, well its a habit for me to wake up early. But what was it that woke you up? You were sleeping when i left the dormitory." Lena said. "it was Silky who woke me up." Ginny answered and looked at Lena. "sorry!" Lena said and she meant it.

When breakfast was over Professor McGonagall was handing out schedules. "oh boy... snape on my first day here. Great..." Lena said groaning.
