1 - The New Student

It was a warm sunny Monday morning at cadic academy Ulrich Jeremy and odd were on their way to their first period class when they saw nicolas leaning on the wall near the soda machine neither herve or sissy in sight.

“wow nicolas I don’t think I have ever seen you alone in all my life where is herve and sissy” Ulrich said

“eh I don’t really have a choice herve is in his room crying and sissy is in china for seven month’s” nicolas said shrugging his shoulders

“wait why is she in china?” Odd said very confused

“she singed up for a student exchange program” nicolas said

“wow there is god were actually free for a whole seven month’s” Odd said laughing loudly

“yea but now for seven month’s I have nothing to do I might actually do my school work now just to kill time” nicolas said

“hahahahaha that’s funny well sad but that’s cause it’s true” Ulrich said

“well we have to go we need to get to class or Mrs. Hertz will be mad and I don’t need another detention on my record” odd said as he began to walk away

“ya that is true later nicolas” Ulrich and Jeremy both said as they ran to catch up with him

They walked to Mrs. Hertz class much faster than their usual pase because they did not miss the new student being introduced but no one was really prepared for what actually happened when they got to class.

“class pleas sit down I have a announcement to make we are going to have a new student joining us for the next few months her name is Wie Jai she is from china but I don’t need to speak for her Miss Wie Jai Would you pleas come in now” Mrs. Hertz waved her hand in a come here motion at the door a very unusual looking girl walked in through it clutching her science book and a black binder she had jet black and blood red hair her lip and ear were pierced and connected by a thin chain she was very almost scary looking

“hello everyone my name is Wie jai I’m happy to meet you all” Wie Jai said as she bowed slightly to the class

“very nice hmmm now lets see there is a open seat next to odd delarobia why don’t you take a seat their” Mrs. Hertz said as she went to sit down

“uhm Mrs. Hertz who exactly is odd delarobia?” Wie Jai said standing facing Mrs. Hertz desk with a confused look on her face

“oh how silly of me I’m sorry he is the one with the purple streak in his hair” She said pointing to odd

“oh thank you” Wie Jai said as she walked back to the seat she was appointed

Class seemed to drag on forever especially for wie jai who even though was used to being different was still having that everyone is starring at me new kid feeling but then finally the bell rang and everyone flooded out of the class that was the only class other than lunch odd Ulrich and Jeremy had with Wie Jai. So the day seemed to just fly by then lunch rolled around and the gang finally got a chance to actually talk as they got in line for lunch they were met up with by alieta and yumi both of witch they hadn’t seen yet today

“where were you two today?” Ulrich asked as yumi and alieta walked over to them and joined them in line

“well I was at home baby sitting my mom had to go grocery shopping and my dad had to work so I had to watch my little brother until my mom got back” Yumi said

“and I slept in then I just didn’t feel like getting up so I played hooky got hungry and here I am” alieta said laughing a bit finding Jeremy’s surprised look funny

“oh so you finally have crossed to the dark side and enjoyed it to boot how funny” Odd said as he put his food on his tray

“yea I did it was fun” alieta said also grabbing a tray and getting her food

They all got their food and sat down and as they did wie jai walked pass their table on her way to food As she got into line

“who is that” yumi asked everyone else

“her name is wie jai she is a Chinese exchange student” odd said in between chomps on his sloppy joe

“wait exchange student who did we exchange for her?” alieta asked

“sissy” the boys all replied quickly like they were dying to see what her reaction was going to be

“wait sissy is gone?!?!?” alieta practically shouted at the top of her lungs

“yep for seven whole months how lucky are we” Ulrich said laughing

“we have to be the luckiest kids in the whole world” odd and alieta both said almost in unison

“yea we are but look at herve over there” yumi said

They glanced over to the lunch table adjacent to their’s herve who for the longest time did nothing but hung around with sissy was sitting there with his head in his arms he looked really upset.

“wow that is kind of pitiful” Jeremy said as he crumpled up the wrapper from his sandwich

“yea seriously” Ulrich said

Just as they had turned back to their table they saw herve stomp past them they looked back over to his table and they saw wie jai sitting there eating by herself

“I kind of feel bad for her I remember how that was when I moved here” odd said

“yea I do to I’m going to go sit with her ill catch you guys later” alieta said

“yea so am I” odd said as he grabbed his tray odd and alieta walked over to the table she was sitting at

“hi do you mind if we sit here” alieta said to wie jai

“sure go ahead” wie jai said as she swallowed a bite of her sandwich and taking a sip of her drink

“do you care if I join you to” odd said

“no go ahead hey I remember you your name is odd right?” wie jai said to odd

“so how do you like it here so far at cadic academy” alieta said

“I like it it’s big and confusing but it has been a pleasant day so far” wie jai said

They sat and chatted until the bell rang which meant the end of lunch the rest of the day seemed to wizz by odd Ulrich yumi and a couple other kids were playing a game of soccer out side for at least three hours if not longer alieta and Jeremy spent their time studying and still trying to perfect alieta’s anti virus program. They finally ended the game in a draw when it became too dark to play anymore

“well I will see you guys tomorrow” Yumi said as she gathered up her stuff and put in her bag and began to leave

“see you later yumi” almost everyone playing said

A few more hours passed Ulrich Jeremy and odd were getting ready for bed when out of nowhere

“oh crap I forgot my cell phone by the soccer field” odd said

“well hurry up and go get it” Jeremy said

“yea before some one comes along and takes it” Ulrich added

So odd left Jeremy’s room where they were hanging out and ran extremely fast outside and toward the soccer field when he heard some one singing so he stopped and looked around

“where is that coming from” odd said to himself softly looking around

The music continued and seemed to get louder as he got closer to the bleachers by the field the words seemed to be in a different language he walked up to the bleachers and he was sure they were coming from the top bleacher he ducked under them and looked up through the holes between the steps and saw wie jai sitting there with a pad of paper and set of pencils beside her she was looking up to the sky. He crawled out from under the bleachers and walked around and said “uhm hi”

“oh I didn’t..... uh how long have you been there...” wie jai said as her face turned a bright shade of red

“ I just got here and you have a amazing voice was that Chinese?” odd asked as he sat down on the bottom bleacher looking at her

“oh uhm ya it’s a old Chinese folk song so to speak I learned it a long time” Wei Jai said as her head dropped down very low she continued to blush like mad

“wow it has a very haunting sound to it I like it” odd said as he began to stand up and look around for his phone

“so wait what are you doing out here anyway drawing?” odd said not looking at her as he scanned the ground for his phone

“uhm I ya I like to come outside at night and sketch the sky and moon some time’s” wie jai said as she stood up and began to grab her stuff as she got ready to leave

“ah ha their It is.....oh you don’t have to leave cause of me I’m leaving now anyway I just needed my phone” odd said holding up his phone so she could see It

“no its alright I have to get to bed anyway its getting late” wie jai said as she stepped down the bleachers and began to walk back to the school

“oh well goodnight then see you in science tomorrow” odd said waving goodbye as he walked back towards his own dorm for the night

The next day the whole gang re united at Mrs. Hertz class today was a lot less exciting of a day it had gone from the hubbub of a new student back to the normalcy that is their science class.

“ok sit down and please be quiet I have a announcement to make I will be handing out a instruction booklet today I want you to read it and follow its instructions and make a presentation that will be due in one month” Mrs. Hertz said as she got her thing’s situated on her desk

The class continued normally until the door opened and interrupted Mrs. Hertz lecture

“I’m sorry I’m late I overslept” odd said as he walked into the class and headed for his seat

“alright just take your seat Mr. delarobia you have your homework I trust?” Mrs. hertz said as she looked through her attendance folder and marked odd late not absent

Odd sat down at his seat and got out his stuff and began to pretend to take notes so Mrs. hertz wouldn’t give him a hard time

“where were you odd” Ulrich leaned over and asked odd

“I actually overslept I was up late playing video games and I didn’t get to bed until 3:30 and I overslept” odd said not taking his eyes off the board for one second

“so wait you were late to class because a video game” Jeremy said trying not to be to loud

“yea why is that a problem?” odd said trying not to laugh

“no not at all” Jeremy said as he returned his attention to the front of the class

Do you have something more important going on than my class Mr. delarobia now I gave you a break on being late but I will not tolerate you disturbing my class now if I hear one more peep out of any of you back their and you will all have detention do I make myself clear you three!

“yes Mrs. Hertz” odd Jeremy and Ulrich all said

“so as I was saying for the presentation I’m going to pair you up with a partner I expect a equal portion of work from both students if I don’t see participation from both student I will give both of you a F”

So now come up and get you packet and I think I’m going to let you pick your own partners if you all promise you can do it quietly and calmly

The class when into what was considered a calm frenzy because everyone wanted to be paired up with their friends and of course most of them got their wish their were a few odd kids out who just kid of sat their waiting to see who would be left after everyone has had their pick. In the end Jeremy got paired with alieta of course Ulrich paired up with a kid named mark who was not a part of their little group of friends after about a minuet or so the only two kids not left paired up was odd because he was a goof and a slacker and wie jai because of how she looked

“would you like to be my partner” odd said to wie jai being polite because they both knew they were the only two left

“yea ok sure” wie jai said taking a quick scan of the room in awe of how quickly everyone partnered up

“so what do you want to do our presentation on” Wie Jai said to odd looking over the booklet the teacher had passed out wile they were picking thier partners

“I don’t know you can pick if you want” odd said

“hmmmm... what exactly are our choices again?” wie jai said as odd looked over the booklet

“it says the topic dose not matter as long as it tie’s into science class in some form” odd said quoting the booklet

They sat for the next fifteen minuets discussing what they should do their project on when all of the sudden the fire alarm went off

“ok children don’t panic go out the door down the hall and outside quickly go” Mrs hertz said as she grabbed her laptop and headed to the door

The whole class ran as fast as they could out into the hall to realize that it was not a drill their was a small haze of black smoke blurring the vision of anyone who was in the hall’s in a few seconds everyone was out of the building watching firemen rush in

“Jeremy over here” odd shouted through the crowd noticing Jeremy alieta and Ulrich

“odd hey” Ulrich said as him Jeremy and alieta walked over to join him

“so I guess it wasn’t a drill” Ulrich said looking at the smoke that was coming out of the front of the school

“yea I guess not I hear that it was a fire in the cooking room weird thing is that their wasn’t a cooking class yet the only one in their was a teacher and she said that the room just like burst into flames” alieta said

“are you guys thinking what I’m thinking” Jeremy said

“you think this could be xana’s work” odd said

“I’m not sure but It wouldn’t make sense he has no reason to attack the cooking lab we weren’t their and he would have known that the fire would get put out before it got to us” Jeremy explained

“well do you think we should go check to see if any towers have been activated” alieta said

“we might as well classes have been dismissed for the day they have to look and see if their was a gas leak or something that caused the fire” Ulrich said

“alright lets go” Jeremy said picking his backpack up off the ground

They all began to walk away from the huge mob of kids and teens and toward the entrance to path to the factory but what they didn't know was that someone actually did notice that they were leaving

“hey that's that kid odd from my science class where is he and his friends going?” wie jai thought to herself

She ran after them trying to catch up cause she wanted to ask odd if knew what had happened plus she was going to tell him to meet her on the lawn near the front of the school later this afternoon to work on their project but they were going to quick for her and when she caught with them Ulrich was just closing the hatch to the secret path

“what the hell....?” wie jai said as she watched them go down into the secret hatch

She walked over opened up the thing and hopped down “hey odd” she shouted the footstep's she was able to hear echoing stopped she walked down the path and looked to the left and to the right she didn't see anyone but she did see the shadow of the gang around a corner down the left side she walked down toward the shadows and when she got their realized they had made a mad dash the corridor. She continued to run after them. Normally she would mind her own business but this time it had caught her attention and her curiosity so she had to at least find out where they were going. She continued to follow the sound of their foot steps for what seemed like forever until finally she came to another ladder that she just figured that this is where they went she climbed up out the hatch and on to the street outside of the factory.

“where the hell am I?” wie jai said to herself as she looked around not recognizing where she was

She walked into the factory and looked around she climbed down the rope and walked over toward the elevator

“theirs no where else the could have gone” wie jai said as she looked around and saw no other plausible exit for them so she pressed the button for the elevator and got on it she road it down one level very nervously as it shook and rumbled she finally arrived at the computer room

“wow what is all this” wie jai said in awe as she walked into the main computer area not even noticing the whole gang sitting right their

After a few seconds Ulrich turned around noticing a noise and saw wie jai standing their “well hi how did you end up down here?” Ulrich said

“oh I uhm I.....” wie jai stuttered

“yea how did find this place did you follow us or something” odd said kind of confused

“well yea but I uhm..I...I had no idea this is where you were going” wie jai said half nervous and half and embarrassed

“so why did you follow us” Jeremy said turning around in his seat

“I was originally trying to catch up with odd to tell him something but then I saw the tunnel hatch and I just got curious” wie jai said explaining herself

“well well who do we have here” yumi said as she walked out from the elevator

“so I take it you got my text message” Ulrich said

“yea I got your text Ulrich now who do we have here I do not believe we have met” yumi continued to say turning her attention to the slightly shorter very unusual

“oh uhm hi my name is wie jai I’m a foreign exchange student at cadic” wie jai said introducing herself

“so what is going on is xana back or not I mean you weren’t very descriptive in your message” yumi said completely ignoring the fact the wie jai had absolutely no idea what was going on

“wait what exactly is going on here I’m confused who is xana what is all this equipment why are you all meeting here” wie jai said

“wait you guys haven’t explained it to her yet” yumi said

“no we didn’t I mean she wasn’t exactly invited here she kind of followed us” odd said

“well are we going to tell her or what I mean she is already here we cant exactly pretend like she knows nothing” yumi said

So the gang spent the next about twenty minuets explaining the in’s and out’s of the factory lyoko xana and all of it at the end wie jai was more confused than she was when she knew nothing.

“so wait your trying to tell me that there is a computer world called lyoko that is terrorized by a evil computer program called xana and that he was the cause of the fire and that you guys can go into the computer and battle xana and his monster?.....” wie jai said obviously and rightfully skeptical

“well it makes sense you don’t believe a single word of neither did Ulrich yumi or even odd but I proved it to them and if you still don’t believe me I will show you to but know that if we do show you what we know and what we do you can go back you cant run off and tell people cause if you do we will no longer be able to protect the world from xana and that would be bad for all of us” Jeremy explained

“well if you think that you could possibly explain this to me go ahead and you don’t have to worry about me blabbing I’m not what you would called overly popular I don’t really have anyone to tell that would listen and take me seriously” wie jai said

So Jeremy took her and yumi down into the scanner and explained what to do he took the elevator back upstairs and began the virtualization process and uploaded her with no problems

[after they arrived in the forest area in lyoko]

“woo wait what happened where am I” wie jai said more than frightened

“welcome to lyoko I love how your outfit looks very Goth but at the same time cool looking” yumi said

Wie jai looked like something out of a video game she was wearing a all black with red trim her hair still in its normal style spiked up on both side’s dyed red and laid down dyed black in the middle she was wearing what looked like a cross of a swat body suit and a leather shirt she had on knee high combat boots on a neon plaid red and green skirt on her sides within her jacket were two gun holster sporting two 9mm

“wow I look cool will I always look like this now?” wie jai said looking over her outfit in pure awe of how cool she looked

“ no you’ll revert back to what ever you were wearing when you got in the scanner but every time you come into lyoko this is what you’ll look like” yumi explained

“wow this is actually happening isn’t it?” wie jai said in total shock that it was all real

“yep its all real well there is no reason for us to stay here right now we will if you want practice combat another day” yumi suggested

“yea that would be fun so how exactly do we get out of here” wie jai said

“well before we would have to find a tower and use it like a portal home but now Jeremy has come up with a program that can take us out whenever we want” yumi explained

“ok jer bring us home” yumi said

After they got out of lyoko they left the factory and walked back to school to continue on with their day. And as they returned and as they talked wie jai thought to herself “for once I have met people who doesn’t judge me for what I act and look like I think my time here is going to be fun”.
