Something I have been working on that involves Seto and me. It's not a romance thing or anything, just a really odd adventure.

Chapter 1 - Morning Stroll	2
Chapter 2 - The Cursed Door of Doom	4

1 - Morning Stroll

Kate: :She stared at the person sitting across from her. She was studying his every motions, trying to read his every move. He didn't seem to notice:

Seto: :He sat at the table reading the paper and drinking his morning coffee. He could feel his housemate's eyes staring at him. Without moving the paper he set his cup down and spoke: What are you trying to do?

Kate: :She looked around confused as to where the voice was coming from. Then she realized it came from Seto: I was trying to see what you were going to do. :She would smile very brightly at him and then shove pancakes down her throat:

Seto: :He folded the paper over enough to see her. He raised an eyebrow at her comment and her behavior: Since when do you care what I am reading? Stop eating like a baffoon. :Glares at her and then goes back to his paper:

Kate: :She stopped and looked up at him, half a pancake hanging out of her mouth. She quickly devoured it and answered: Only because I love you Lord Seto. :Another huge smile followed:

Seto: Like I really believe that. Just what are you scheming this time Kaytlyn? :He smirked and placed the paper on the table and looked at her:

Kate: :She glared at him as she turned into a living plush doll of herself: How dare you do that! :She climbed up onto the table and then stood on his paper:

Seto: :He patted her head and took another sip of his coffee. After that he smirked again: Your so cute when your angry. :He then stood up taking his mug with him:

Kate: :She jumped onto him and held onto the side of his morning robe: Don't leave me in this BIG kitchen alone! :She cried as he took her in his free arm:

Seto: :He set her on his shoulder and walked around the house aimlessly: So what were you really planning? :He doesn't look at her as he heads down a set of stairs:

Kate: :She was actually leaning herself against his head when she answered: I was just trying to irritate you. :She looked around as he continued to lead her somewhere: So where are you going? Are you planning something now?

Seto: :He didn't answer her, but continued to walk. He walked a long distance without saying a word to the confused, and now, scared girl:

Kate: :She shook his head: Seto why won't you answer me? Tell me where you are going. :She sighed and realized he wasn't going to say anything to her. Then she had a smirk: 'If your not going to talk verbally then how about mentally?' :She then opened the link between her and Seto: ~Tell me now!~

Seto: :He would just roll his eyes and try to ignore the voice he was hearing in his head. She would just keep asking him. He growled and then spoke to her: Will you quit asking that. I'm trying to show you, but not tell you. :By this time his mug was completely empty and he was forced to carry it with him:

Kate: :She blinked a few times at his sudden outburst and did what she was told. She was quiet the remainder of the trip. It seemed to take forever for them to get where they were going:

Seto: :He could tell how bored she was getting by the way she kind of laid against his head. He stopped and looked around, he couldn't remember it taking this long to get there before:

Kate: Is everything alright Seto-sama? :She sounded concerned and worried. She climbed onto his head and sat there: Are you lost my friend?

Seto: :Glances up at her and sighs: Sadly yes I am. :He started walking again, keeping Kate balanced on his head:

Kate: :She sighed and shook her head. She didn't recognize this area of the house at all: Let's hope you can get back out of here.

Seto: :He was somewhat confused by her statement: Couldn't you just teleport us out of here? :The hallway was now getting darker and their surroundings were getting a whole lot colder: It's starting to feel more like a wine cellar down here.

Kate: :She was really bored and just wanted to be normal now, but she couldn't until he said her name again. She sighed and answered him: I have to know where I am first. Since I don't then that would be a no. I couldn't teleport us out of here. :Since she was a little talking plush doll she couldn't feel how cold it was getting:

Seto: :He decided to start up a conversation: So what ever did happen to that charming friend of yours? I believe her name was Jessica. :He sounded somewhat sarcastic:

2 - The Cursed Door of Doom

Kate: Her. I really don't know. She comes and goes as she pleases. I really couldn't track her anyways.
:She told him as she stared up at the ceiling. The ceiling looked rather odd in her opinion. After she finished she heard a snort from Seto: What's so funny?

Seto: You don't have any kind of tracking device attached to her? Now that is really surprising. :He smiled until the thing on his head whopped him:

Kate: I've known her longer than I have known you. :She crossed her arms and glared into the distance:

Seto: :He stopped at a dead end. There was a door to his right and left: Let's not make this a total waste of time. Which door?

Kate: :She came out of her anger and looked at each one. They both had weird markings on them. By the looks of them I would say which ever one you can open.

Seto: :He was confused by that but got closer to the one on his left. He ran his hand over the strange engraving. It was icy cold. He removed his hand and looked at it. It was an ice blue color now: That is really odd.

Kate: Huh? What is? :She leaned over his head and looked at his hand too: What happened to your hand?

Seto: It changed colors when I touched that door. :looked at the door. He realized there wasn't a knob on it either: I guess I'll have to push it. :He put both of his hands on the door and started to push:

Kate: :She realized something and went wide eyed: Seto wait! :But it was too late:

Seto: Huh? :He watched his hands go through the door and tried to pull them away without any success:

Kate what is going on?

Kate: Don't pull or push. Actually don't even move. :She jumped off his head and landed on his right arm. She walked towards the door and stared at the engraving: Great. :She sounded very depressed when she said this:

Seto: :He looked at her oddly. He didn't know what was going on, but he was now stuck in this door: What's going on?

Kate: :She didn't answer him, but jumped off his arm and onto the floor: Change me back. NOW! :She commanded very loudly. There wasn't anything she could do in this form to help him:

Seto: :He looked from the door and then at her. He lowered his head and spoke calmly: It's that bad huh? :He sighed as she nodded her head: Fine. Kaytlyn.

Kate: :She glowed slightly for a second and was back to normal. She didn't say a word to him as she started to roll up the sleeve of his robe:

Seto: :He stared at his arm shocked. It was the same icy blue color his hand was. By the looks of things it was going up his arms: Okay now tell me what is happening to me. :He looked very concerned and worried, but sounded absolutely calm:

Kate: To put it simply. Your turning into ice Seto. :She let go of his arm and walked behind him. She started to rub his shoulders. She could feel the coldness of his body through his clothes: This will give new meaning to your icy cold glare. :She giggled:

Seto: :He narrowed his eyes: That is not funny. :He stared at the door trying to figure out what to do next: So now what?

Kate: Well. :She took a couple of steps back. Then she proceeded to shove him from behind: That.

Seto: :He stumbled forwards and through the door. He fell face first into snow. He pushed himself up and looked at the ground for a moment: Why isn't the snow cold? :The snow on his face and under his hands felt warm. He then rolled out of the way as Kate came through the door too:

Kate: :She ran through the door shortly after Seto disappeared through it. She fell into the snow too and then sat straight up: Cold! :She shivered and started to rub her arms:

Seto: :He stood up and looked at her for a moment. She wasn't blue at all and he raised an eyebrow at this. While he pondered what was going on he threw his robe at her: Here take it. You seem to need it more than I do right now.

Kate: :Her face was suddenly covered and she stood taking the robe off her head. She threw it on quickly as she stared at him curiously: You're completely blue Seto-sama. You're not cold? :She tilted her head sideways as she studied him: Interesting.

Seto: :There he was standing in the middle of some God forsaken winter wonderland and all he was wearing was his pajamas. He rolled his eyes at her comment and started to look around. There was nothing but snow in every direction: So why aren't you blue? :He asked out of pure curiosity:

Kate: :She continued to shiver, but she spoke calmly and clearly: Because the house is evil and it only works on one person. That or it's a family booby trap. :She shrugged and walked to where the door should be: One way trip too.
