Chapter 00: Prologue: The Secret Report of Ansem the Wise

&I decided to review the data obtained at my basement lab. That is when I discovered the Ansem Reports. Though they bore my name, the only one I had written was #0. Apparently he had gone to pen numbers 1 through 8 himself. Yes the first subject of my foolish experiments.

Interesting.

It was another day in the Ghost Zone. It looked like it always did, with the exception of a mysterious white cloaked figure. The figure was looking through what seem like a journal of some sort.

In the Ansem Reports my apprentice Xehanort had written under his name, I found the records of his hideous experiments along with his hypothesis about the door that had appeared out of the darkness in my basement.

It seemed he discovered what had happened, yet I wonder why he did nothing.

The cloaked figure flipped through the pages, closely examining each one with intense concentration. Six white portals began to form around him, with similar looking figures, though armor was visible, appearing out of each portal. They began to listen to the first white cloaked figure.

I became familiar with an unusual entity while pursuing the truth. It is the soul and body that remain when a being losses its heart. When a Heartless is born, these entities disappear from the realm of light, to be reborn as entirely new beings in a completely different realm.

Ha! sneered the first cloaked figure. The other cloaked figures joined in laughing at this statement. The first cloaked figure unzipped his cloak to reveal his armor underneath. He then looked towards his fellow cloaked figures.

That fool believed that both the body and the soul combined became a Nobody! He was wrong. The shell of the body becomes a Nobody, while the soul&the soul would linger on, immortal, as a ghost!

Chapter 01: It Is Happening Again

A large tower came into view as the Highwind, piloted by King Mickey, drew closer towards it. The King had received a message from his former mentor, Yen Sid, summoning his majesty.

As he landed the Highwind, the King wondered what Yen Sid wanted. Could it be that the Heartless and the Nobodies were once again becoming a threat? King Mickey shuddered at the thought, though he knew that it was only a matter of time until their numbers grew large again.

The King had walked up the stairs, getting ever closer to his mentor. He finally reached the top floor, and entered.

The King looked around to find his mentor staring outside the window. The King walked towards the old wizard and then stopped right next to him. You summoned me, Master Yen Sid? said King Mickey, staring at his old mentor.

Yen Sid nodded slowly and looked in his majesty's direction. Indeed, I did, he spoke, looking back outside and pointing towards the stars, look. King Mickey looked in the direction his mentor was pointing at.

The King saw that a bright star was fading in and out, as shooting stars crisscrossed over it. It didn't take long for his majesty to figure out what was going on. He looked back at Yen Sid and replied, It's happening again?

Indeed, replied Yen Sid as he looked at King Mickey, A new Keyblade Wielder.
