1 - Jerk on the bus

How much is it worth? By phantom42

I met the strangest guy. Sort of a jerk, but an interesting one.

I decided to catch the bus to the city park

Wormwood- You got the wings wrong.

I looked up. Good-looking jerk I'll give him that. He was leaning over my shoulder, scooping out my sketch.

Get lost I said VERY ladylike!

Wormwood- The head s ok&I guess

Glad you approve. Get lost.

Wormwood- Wormwood *stuck out his hand *

I shook his hand

Nice to met you, wormwood. Go away.

Wormwood- A real artist has to know how to take criticism.

I m not a real artist! Just another sketching wannabe& bye-bye now wormwood.

He laughed and bent down beside my shoulder, studying the sketch, bit closer than necessary,

I wanted to tell him to get lost, meaning it.

But&

Time slowed down&.

Then I opened up:

Stretching the pause between one wave breaking&

And the next I knew&.

He asked me if I wanted to go for a walk&&

2 - Dare

It s a good drawing, but the wings are too big&.I got the mouth the right size though.

He grinned

Wormwood- Draw me.

I don t think so.

Wormwood- scared?

Better things to do with my time.

Wormwood- drawing birds?

For example.

I have a good scornful stare. I know it's good cause I practiced it in the mirror.

I tried it on him.

He laughed

Wormwood- Draw me. I'll pay what the picture's worth.

Hey jerk no means no!!

I stuffed my sketch book into my leather case.

Wormwood- ok, so you're not ready. Keep writing only in your diary and showing your pictures only to your best friend, then.

Screw You!!

A glared at him

How much will you pay for that drawing?

Wormwood- Depends on what it's worth.

I pull out my sketch book and a pen

Sit up on the wall there.

Wormwood- oh, I see. You're one of those one girls that needs to get mad before she Shut up!!

He shut up.

I drew.
