Chapter 1 - My Garden of Eden

2

1 - My Garden of Eden

- Based upon the Garden of Eden. It's free for anybody to interpret, it probably means different things for different people but for me it kind of symbolizes the evil inside everybody, after all we are all capable of doing bad things...-

In the hands of God, a holy place

Lies my garden, a forest of grace

The beauty flows and peace is free

Towards the centre juts out a tree

Trunk twisted, snake entwined

Apples violent red, bloody lined

I take a bite and my garden shatters

Destroying all the good that matters

And the flowers in my Garden of Eden

The weeds strangle and bleed them

Until the flowers choke and cry

Falling for evil they go limp and die

This is the end for my garden

The end of innocence for the world of men

And as the weeds of evil grow

The gates of my Eden open and I know

That the sins of all my forgotten past

The ones of which I hoped wouldn't last
Are going to come back to haunt me
And it'll show for you to see
I've bitten into the apple and its rotting me inside
Today's the day humanity lived and died
And when I wake up in the morning
And hear my nightmares calling
It seems like I been asleep for so long
A thousand years have been and gone
Yet my Garden of Eden has overgrown
Although I'm pretending all along I've known
The flowers scream out, choke and cry
And all my sanity will sicken and die
Whispering willows weep to me
Let it spread and leave them be
But my evil has been let loose
Knotted by my hangman's noose
And in my Garden of Eden, I see
Evil spreading across the land and sea
And I know I've unleashed a monster
One of which there is only one cure
The goodness of man's heart
Most of which wouldn't part

Now humanity, steal, abuse and kill

I can stop it but I'm already dancing with the devil
