SEPTEMBER NIGHT

I can clearly remember

Your touch, flavor and taste

In that night of September -

The only not made of paste

Oh, so much I miss

Your arms - tender and warm

Your sweetest kiss

And that electric storm

I closed my eyes

And flew away

Deep in the skies

Where I wanted to stay

Together with you

You were more than the one

I didn't want a day new

Neither wanted the sun

It's you what I wanted

And I want you again

I want to be haunted

I want thunders and rain
You remember that night -
We burned with desire
You held me so tight,
Though my body was fire
Bodies - wavering flames -
Not just for the rhyme
We'd forgotten our names
The world and the time
But the night went away
And I had to go
I wished I could've stayed
But I couldn't, oh, no
You too had to leave
And try to forget
It is hard to believe
That only once we have met
Life is so cruel
I know that well
You must be a fool
Or be under a spell
But you still look around
And dream to see me

But yet haven't found

The drop of blood in the sea

I'm looking for you

I just want you again

I know and I knew:

Only you stop the pain

I'll never surrender

I'll search for your light

For another September

For another wild night
