1 - the clans death

When i was born my clan was attacked by a wolf demon. To save the clan they used me. The best ninja used a special ritual to seal the powerful wolf demon inside of me. When I was ten people looked at me differently. They all were scared of me, but I didn't know why. Even when everyone else shunned me there were four who didn't. Those people were Malina Reuka, Maria Spirit, Coty Zany, and my mother.

I wasn't prepared for what was about to happen next. Because my life was about to change for the worst. This terrible thing happened on my eleventh birthday.

"Hey Chris! Maira, coty, and me have a surprise for your birthday. So see you at the forest later tonight. We'll see you later." Malina said as we walked to my house. "See you later, Malina" I walked into my house. "Chris is that you" said mom. "Ya, it's me." "Is there something on your mind son?" "Ya, every where i go people look away as if they're afraid of me. Do you have any idea why they do that?" I asked. "Christopher please sit and i'll tell you why"

I sat at the table while mother started to explain. "Your father died fighting the wolf demon. But the beast was too powerful and couldn't be stopped. So the master ninja used a powerful sealing ritual to seal the beast inside a newborn." "Ya, but how what does this have to do with me?" I asked in confusion. "Don't you realize....the newborn was you!" "No...NO! That can't be! Why...How could you throw my life away! What gave you the right to throw my life away! People fear me for what you have done! I screamed as i stood up! "Chris I had no choice! They took you from me! When you were born they came and took you. I didn't know why!" Explained mother. "Why!" I screamed as i punched the wall. But to my surprise my hand went through. "Oh no! The..... the seal!" She said in fear. "what about the seal!" I yelled in anger. "One of the chains have broken." "What chains are you talking about" I said in a deep angry voice. "In the ritual the master ninja used, he used magical chains to tie down the beast. But by the looks of it not all of the chains are broken" "But how can you tell" I asked. "Well one reason is only some of the wolf's power seems to have seeped through. But if all the chains break. the wolf would be freed and you would be taken over and consumed by the wolf. Your body would be his to control. You should be faster than any normal person." mother explained. I ran out the door and to the forest. I stopped and rested in a tree right by the spot where my friends were.

I took a deep breath through my nose. "I smell.....FIRE!! But where is it." I looked at my friends but there was no fire. "The fire must be coming from the other way...The clan! there must be an attack on the clan. I have to warn my mother and the others! But before that i have to take care of the spies in the bushes. One good thing about the demon is I can see farther than before." I leaped from the trees and threw some daggers. The daggers went past my friend as they turned around. I heard screams coming from the bushes. Followed by several daggers heading for my friends! I rushed through my friends with a needle drawn. I started to block them, but I was too slow. As I watched some of the daggers slip past me I heard two screams. The screams were from my comrades maria and coty. As I watched the two friends fall it seemed time had come to a complete stop. What was seconds seemed like an hour. But time was normal again as I saw a ninja of darkness jump from the bushes. But I was angry too angry so much anger that I could hear the wolf demon talking to me.

"Let me out I'll rip him to shreds! I hunger for blood!" "NO!!" I screamed as I fell " I have to suppress the wolf demon inside of me!" But it was too late the demon was in control now, but not completely. I was walking like a wolf on all fours. I was glowing blue like fur of the wolf and it came to a point like a tail. " this power it's extreme!" " I decided to lend my power to you instead of taken control." the wolf demon spoke to me in my head. I turned to the ninja of darkness. "Don't worry I didn't forget about you!" I throw the needle at the ninja. The needle flew through the ninja and stuck into the tree behind him. The ninja fell to the ground with a look of fear.

I ran through the forest and into the village. Homes were on fire and dead bodies were all over the ground. No, this can't be happening who would do this. I dashed through the village killing everyone in sight. I made my way through to the center of the village. there I saw a large group of ninjas of darkness and my anger grew more intense. In matter of second they all were dead. Needles were all over the ground. In the middle of the bodies was Roxas the master ninja.

"You will pay for what you have done to me!" But right before I attacked I heard Malina's voice. "Chris stop!" "Malina....Malina!!! Help me I can't control the wolf. Help!!!! Me!!!!" As I screamed I started to float in mid air! "Whats going on?!" Malina said. "Chris! Snap out of it Chris!" when Malina said that it was like a switch! I was back in control. I slowly went back to the ground and stopped glowing. I fell to my knees. when needles flew past me and stabbed Malina! "Malina!! Who did this.." I turned to see Roxas on the ground with needles in his back!

I dashed to Malina. Then grabbed her and ran through the town. Before I knew it I was through the forest and miles from my dead clan. "Chris I can heal her... Let me out...all I want is to do is heal her! You have suffered too long!" The next thing I knew I woke up next to Malina. The needles in her chest were gone and all that was left was little holes and blood stains in her light blue shirt.

2 - Who killed the clan?

Later Malina woke up. I explained what happened. "Malina.... I'm heading back to the village." "But why do you want to go back? What if there are more ninjas of darkness there?" She asked. "Then I guess I'll have to defeat them all." "You mean use the power of the wolf! Don't you?!" "If I have to then yes." "No!! I don't want to lose you to that monster like what happened last night!" "Malina what happened last night...I had.... fine I'll never use the power of the wolf unless I have no choice. Even then I'll use it with care.... ok." "Ok, but let me come with you! I don't want to be alone and I won't take no for an answer!" "Fine you can come but there's one thing you must know.... The wolf saved you last night! He said I had suffered too much and wanted to heal you!"
