1 - TRUE LOVE

THIS IS A ONE-SHOT IDEA THAT I HAD ON VALENTINES DAY AND I JUST HAD TO WRITE IT I HOPE YOU LIKE AND RAED MY OTHER STORY IT IS REALLY GOOD!!

TRUE LOVE

It was February 14th and Yumi was getting ready for school. She knew that something was going to happen Sissi was going to do something to ruin today, she always did. Yumi had decided that today would be the day that she told Ulrich how she felt, well not actually say to him she had written her thoughts down and she was going to give him a note. Even though she still thought about not doing it she said to her self that she would try and give it to him. She got to school still thinking about it that she didn't realize that her face showed this expression. "What's up Yumi?" Odd asked seeing that she was confused. "Oh. Nothing, just thinking. Where's Ulrich?" she answered looking at the group noticing that he was not there. "I don't know when I got up he wasn't in the room." Odd said. Yumi looked at Jeremy and Aelita and they both shook their heads not knowing where he was. Yumi decided that she would go look at his secret spot at lunch because the bell rang. When Yumi went off to class Odd, Jeremy and Aelita felt bad having to lie to her because they in fact knew where Ulrich was, but they promised him that they wouldn't tell her that he was planning something special for her.

Lunch came slower then normal and instead of going to the lunchroom Yumi headed for the forest. As she was walking down the path she was listening for any sounds that might give her a clue that Ulrich would be there. She heard nothing, she decided to sit down at his favorite tree and think about if she should give him the note. "Should I give it to him?" she asked herself, thinking that no one was be there. Then to her surprise she heard a voice ask, "Give what to whom?" It sounded like Ulrich and that made her stand up, but when she did the note fell to the ground and she quickly bent down and grabbed her note. When she looked up she saw Ulrich standing there with a little box in his hand. "Oh Ulrich where have you been?" she asked giving him a hug, but then quickly letting go and blushing a little. "I had to do something. Sorry if I worried you." Ulrich answered looking at her with a smile. She sat back down because she felt her legs get weak. Ulrich sat next to her and then he asked, "So what about my question?" "Oh. I want to give this note to this guy I like, but I don't know if he feels the same way about me as I do about him." Yumi answered. "Oh and what is this guy like?" Ulrich questioned trying to get a clue before he made his move. "I don't know if I can describe him. He might be to amazing for words, but I'll give it a try," She began, "He is always there for me. I don't know why, but every time he talks to me he can never get out what he wants to say. I always feel weak around him. And if I keep talking he is going to figure it out." She finished and then quickly realized what she just said. She was trying so hard not to look at Ulrich. When it finally hit Ulrich he looked at her and said, "Well the girl I like can also not get out what she wants to say when she talks to me. She gets jealous when I talk or hang out with other girls. And I guess that I never realized why she does till just now. That makes me feel so stupid." When he finished he looked at her to see that she had a tear in her eye. "Yumi would you like to know who that girl is?" Ulrich asked thinking that she might not have got what he meant by what he said before. She nodded and looked at him. Then he said, "The girl I like and the girl I want to give this to is sitting right next to me right now." She wiped away the tears in her eyes. She looked on the other side of Ulrich to see no one there then she looked back at him and he was holding a black box (a bracelet box). She slowly picked it up and opened it and inside was a silver charm bracelet with two charms on it. One was a heart with the word love on it and the other was the word friend. She looked up at him to see him smiling back at her. "The heart means that you are loved and the friend is for how great a friend you are." Ulrich said thinking that she might want an explanation. She had lost her voice she didn't know what to say, so she decided to do something that she always wanted to do, she kissed him. When they broke apart she looked at him and said, "I know it's not a lot, but what I wrote is worth a lot more than you would ever know." She handed him the note and he opened it. He began to read it aloud, "Dear Ulrich, I know that you may not feel the same way about me, but I have to tell you this. This is one of those things that are hard to put into words. You are something no one can describe. I have kept this to myself for so long that every time this day comes it hurts that I am so scared to tell you that I Love You. I don't toss 'love' around lightly and when I say I love you I mean it. Ever since I met you I knew you were too perfect to be true that it took me since then to write you this. Are friendship has grown, but now I know that I like you way too much to say that we are just friends. That is all I had to say. I Love You. With all my love, Yumi." Ulrich finished and saw that Yumi could not meet his eyes. "Yumi..." Ulrich began before he couldn't help himself from kissing her again. "...I have never seen anything like this. I mean...you were right these words you can't put a price on. I want you to know that I feel the same way." Ulrich tried to say. Yumi couldn't seem to make her voice work, so when she was trying to put on her bracelet she had trouble. Finally Ulrich helped her and when he finished both of them looked up at each other and their eyes met. "It took so long to get myself to let you know this and now I have made a decision to tell you and I am glad you feel the same way." Yumi said finally after not being able to say anything. They decided to go back to the lunchroom and have some lunch before it was over. When they walked into the lunch something hit Ulrich hard he turned to Yumi and said, "Yumi I forgot to ask you something." She looked at him confused, "Will you be my valentine? Will you go to dinner tonight with me?" Ulrich didn't realize that he just said this almost in front of Sissi. Yumi nodded because she lost her voice again, but this time for two reasons. One because Ulrich and the other because of Sissi. "WHAT?!" Sissi yelled getting everyone's attention, "Did you just ask 'her' Ulrich dear." She finished and stood up so she was at their level. "Well Sissi lets clear one thing up. I AM NOT YOUR ULRICH DEAR! Yumi is and will be for hopefully forever." Ulrich said trying not to cause a big show, but unfortunately that happened anyways. "How does 'she' get to be your Ulrich dear when I have always been it." Sissi asked. "I am his Ulrich dear because you like him for his looks and not the way he acts. Sissi, do you know the meaning of true love?" Yumi said. "Well duh! Who doesn't like Ulrich for his looks and of course I know the meaning of true love." Sissi smart mouthed back to Yumi. Yumi simply smiled and said, "You do? Let me guess your definition of true love. You think it means someone that looks cute and it doesn't matter what they are on the inside as long as they look good and well maybe if they make you laugh." Yumi just smiled at her as she said, "You guess it." "Yeah that's what everyone seems to think, but do you want to know the true meaning?" Yumi said, but without letting her answer she continued, "It means someone that when all else is gone you still have each other. It's when you put them first and not you. When you think you have lost it all, but you can still bring yourself back and see them standing there. It is not a term anyone should just use because at that moment they are in love. It is a term you know has only come because.....you have spent enough time around the person to start to think that they don't actually like you back, but you don't care because you know that no matter what they will always be a friend, a good friend, a best friend. That is someone you can depend on and then you realize that you could be more than friends.” When Yumi finished everyone in the lunchroom was silent they knew she was right. She was so powerful that even Ulrich was amazed. Sissi couldn't talk, no one could and no one knew that Jim was in the lunchroom for the whole conversation and he froze because he has never seen anything like this before. Then a smile formed on Yumi's face, she looked from Ulrich to Sissi to everyone else. Then to her surprise everyone started to clap including Jim and Ulrich. Sissi sat back down knowing she was defeated. Yumi and Ulrich continued their way to the table that the group was sitting at already. “Yumi...” was about all everyone could say to her and she just simply smiled. “Yumi I thought your note was something, but that was just down right amazing!” Ulrich said not being able to contain his excitement for his new girlfriend and his best friend. She kissed letting the whole group know that they were finally together. Now Ulrich thought Yumi's words were powerful in her note, but when she told Sissi then he really knew what she meant by it. He could not believe that she just told Sissi and maybe the rest of the school what true love was. The whole lunchroom ate in silence so when the principle walked in he almost had to go back out he was amazed. He walked over to Jim and asked him what had just happened and Jim couldn't answer all he said was “Yumi, go ask Yumi.” The principle walked over to there group and asked, “Yumi what is going on here?” “Well, sir, I just explained to Sissi and everyone what true love truly means and it is not just about looks. It is about...what is inside the person that matters and how much you get to know the person...” she was cut off by Ulrich saying, “Sir don't get her started again, she means to say that Sissi was disagreeing with my decision on who my valentine should be and so Yumi proved something to her and everyone else in here.” The principle was so taken back that he to could not believe someone was in love like that. He decided to cancel classes for the rest of the day. The gang hung out in Ulrich's room and talked. This was the started of a relationship and a better friendship. This day may be filled with love, but there was only one TRUE LOVE!

WELL THAT WAS IT I HOPED YOU LIKED IT. I WAS THINKING OF GOING OFF AND MAKING THIS ANOTHER STORY, BUT I HAVE ANOTHER ONE GOING ON SO IF I EVER GET STUCK I WILL TRYI AND WRITE SOMETHING FOR THIS FAN FIC. THIS IS MY FIRST ONE-SHOT I HOPE I REALLY GOT IT ALL AND SORRY IT IS SO LONG I TRIED TO PUT IT ALL IN!
