Once there was a traveler named Chi who was cursed with evil powers even she couldn't control. Chi would try to fight the curse but she would always lose her own battle. Sometimes when she would be traveling she'd end up destroying the town. Chi was tired of being cursed she hated every single thing about it. Her powers drove her nuts because everywhere she went they said she was a monster. The only reason she traveled was so she wouldn't get the world in danger.

One day as Chi was walking through a secret tunnel to a new home she noticed a Man trying to hurt a little girl. Chi dropped the things she had in her bags and tried to stop the man. After many attacks the girl was safe from the unidentified man. Chi walked over to the child with caution to see if she was okay. I'm Fine. Thank you for saving me from that man. You practically saved my life. The Girl then looked up at Chi and smiled. I'm Anne and who are you? the girl asked waiting for Chi to answer her.

Oh I'm Chi it's very nice to meet you Anne. Do you live near this tunnel? Anne nodded her head in disagreement and had a sad face. Chi gave a glare at Anne for a long time.

I don't have parents and I don't have a home. My parents were killed in a huge fire a year ago. I have been traveling by myself since then. Chi stared at Anne for even longer she couldn't just let Anne die out there. Chi took a deep breath in and then looked at Anne some more.

Why don't you come with me Anne? I could use a strong little girl like you to join me. So what do you say? Anne looked up at Chi that was giving her a gentle smile. She whipped away some of her tears and agreed to go with her on her adventure. Now I need to find a way to tell her about the curse, She thought to herself. She looked over at her new teammate and then picked up the things she dropped.

So Anne ever heard of the cursed girl?

Nope but can you tell me? Anne looked up at Chi who had a happy face.

I'll tell you later right now we need to find a way out of this tunnel. I think I can find a way. She knelt down onto the ground and touched the dirt she closed her eyes and then she felt vibrations. This way. She led Anne through the tunnel using the voice of nature and the vibrations.

When they finally got out of the tunnel Chi found a place to set up camp. It was a very shady clearing with a lake and lots of trees.

We'll camp here for tonight. Chi put everything she had down and pitched up a tent. The whole thing surprised Anne, she never saw someone pitch tents like Chi did. Anne wanted to help but she was scared that if she did the tent wouldn't be so neat and tidy. Instead Anne just sat and watched.

Many years passed and Chi and Anne went on so many adventures, like climbing Mount Everest and swimming through the Great Barrier Reef. One day when Anne was helping Chi set up camp Chi decided to tell Anne about the curse.

Hey Anne come over here I need to tell you something. Anne walked over to Chi and they sat down on a log. About the cursed girl well here's the story. Fifteen years ago there was a power more expensive than life itself. To protect the powers they put the powers in a baby girl who grew up to be me. Anne stood up from the log and started to cry. Anne are you feeling Okay?

I'm fine just leave me alone okay? In the fire that killed my parents a girl attacked the village she had a bunch of fire spitting out of her. They said she has the curse of the dragon. Chi realized that the girl Anne was talking about was her she killed Anne's parents.

Anne that girl was me burnt your house killing your family. Chi waited for what was coming towards her and then she noticed an archer. She pushed Anne out of the Archer's way and the arrow pierced her heart not Anne's.

CHI are you okay. She ran over to where Chi was she wouldn't let chi die not here. Chi put a hand on Anne's face and smiled.

The powers were more than life as long as you carry me in your heart I'll be alive. Chi stared at Anne for a long time she closed her eyes and died.

No Chi I won't let you. You can't be dead you just can't.
